Vaccinations for Seafarers

Simon Hodgkinson
Global Head of Loss Prevention

We are beginning to see countries offer seafarers who have not been vaccinated for COVID 19 the opportunity to get vaccinated whilst their vessel is in port.

This is an important milestone for seafarers showing that they are being supported during the challenging times that they face working away from their home countries for extended periods of time. Please follow this link to ports around the world where the vaccine is available to seafarers.
